

People On The Move

New Life Management and Development of Mount Laurel, N.J., has promoted Maureen Anderson to senior vice president of marketing. Her responsibilities will include market planning, development, oversight, recruitment and sales training, planning, survey and focus group design, and budget development. In her new position she will continue presenting at conferences and expand her national reach by helping to develop an ever-expanding client base for New Life. Anderson has more than 20 years of experience in sales, marketing, management, and development and is a licensed real estate broker.

INSPIRIS of Brentwood, Tenn., has named Vickie Harris vice president of Tennessee operations. Among her duties, Harris is the INSPIRIS executive tapped to lead the company's new partnership with XL Health, one of the nation's leading disease management companies, to provide support for nursing home residents participating in Tennessee's Medicare Health Support program. About 600 program participants living with chronic health conditions such as diabetes and heart failure will be offered comprehensive health support services through the program.

Chartwell Seniors Housing Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT), Mississauga, Ontario, Canada, has appointed Stephen Suske as vice chair and co-chief executive officer and Robert Ezer as president and co-chief executive officer. Both executives will be responsible for the strategic direction of the REIT, reporting directly to its board of trustees. In addition, Suske will be responsible for all on-going operations of the REIT, while Ezer will oversee all investment activities and the continued growth of the REIT.

The Foundation of the National Student Nurses' Association has elected Kenneth Dion to serve on its board of trustees from 2007 to 2010. His election comes as a result of his past commitment to the association.

Pamela Navon has been named community relations director at Sterling Glen of Forest Hills, N.Y. In her new position, she will be responsible for marketing the residence; coordinating resident move-in activities; working with the local community to familiarize them with Sterling Glen, its programs, and services; and building relationships within the Forest Hills community.

BANE

The Massachusetts Extended Care Federation (MECF), Newton Falls, Mass., has elected Richard Bane chairman. Bane is president of Bane Care Management, based in Salem, Mass. As chairman of a 36-member board of directors, Bane will represent the common interests of MECF's 500 member facilities, ranging from legislative to regulatory concerns, and will advocate for the long term care profession with state officials, the legislature, and elder care advocacy groups. MECF members provide skilled nursing, assisted living, and continuing care retirement services to more than 50,000 residents in Massachusetts. Bane currently operates four skilled care residences in Massachusetts: Devereux House in Marblehead, Rosewood Nursing and Rehab Center in Peabody, Abbott House/The Swampscott Wing in Lynn, and Grosvenor Park in Salem.
