

People On The Move

Lakeview Village, Lenexa, Kan., has announced the retirement of its Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Richard Catlett. He has served on Lakeview's Board of Directors since 1974. For more than 17 years he has contributed significantly to the field of aging. Under his leadership, Lakeview has grown from a community of 300 to one with 800-plus residents. He attributes the consistent growth of his facility to the LifeCare Agreement, which is an affordable long term care insurance policy that is included in the residents' entry fee. In the future, Catlett and his wife plan to move to Lakeview. Prior to his position as CEO, Catlett achieved a distinguished career in banking, which included serving as president and CEO of Kansas National Bank & Trust Co. and of Broadway National Bank. His numerous civic contributions include leadership positions in Rotary International, Optimists International, Lenexa Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, YMCA, American Cancer Society, and Asbury Methodist Church.

Debbi Borgstrom has returned to Oak Springs of Warrenton, Va., as assistant director of nursing. She has been a certified hospice and palliative nurse since 2000. She has done case management for the terminally ill for more than 10 years and has conducted educational programs on end-of-life issues and liaison work with the local area hospital and facilities.

Edie Gerelli has been named vice president of operations at Chelsea Senior Living, Summit, N.J. She will oversee operations of Chelsea's seven New Jersey properties, which encompass assisted living, dementia care, and behavioral health services. Gerelli has more than nine years of experience in various positions, most recently as area manager of operations. Other positions she has held include cluster manager, senior executive director, regional troubleshooter, and assisted living and reminiscence coordinator.

The United Spinal Association in Jackson Height, N.Y., has elected Chris Fossel to its Board of Directors. Fossel, founder and national leader of Merrill Lynch's Disability Awareness Professional Network, is a vice president in Merrill Lynch's corporate recruiting department. The company's Disability Awareness Professional Network has grown from four individuals when it started to 600 participants today, and Fossel's efforts to recruit qualified individuals with disabilities have earned him national recognition. He became acquainted with the United Spinal Association through his Merrill Lynch outreach efforts to recruit disabled veterans from the Iraq and Afghanistan conflicts.

FOSSEL

The Home Health Care Program of The Jewish Home and Hospital Lifecare Systems, New York, N.Y., has been named a recipient of this year's 2007 Quality Award, given annually by IPRO, New York state's Medicare quality improvement organization. The Quality Award recognizes home health agencies and other health care providers demonstrating a commitment to improving health care services in the state.

Allan Swartz has been appointed as District 6 director on the national board of directors of the American College of Health Care Administrators in Alexandria, Va.

—Yvette Cowan

✱

If you have a People On The Move item, please send it to: Yvette Cowan, Provider, 1201 L St., N.W., Washington, DC 20005-4014. Note: Please label photos.